

GREETINGS FROM WUMPA ISLANDS!

You probably haven't heard of us yet, but it's your friends over at r/CrashOnTheRun!

🥝 We're in love with 'Crash: On The Run', we want to show it, & we want you to know it! ❤️

The COTR subreddit originally came about as a means to discuss and promote our love for "Crash: On The Run" after it's beta phase began! It was just another subreddit, but I could tell we needed a little... more. After becoming a moderator, the style was revamped to bring a little more personality to really make it feel like you might be visiting The Wumpa Archipelago, or at least their Travelocity site!

Right now: it's a place for our Worldwide Bandicoots to chat about the game, tell us about bugs/glitches they find, post their best runs and times, get announcements from our dedicated team of moderators, and more!

Right now our subreddit has +850 members warping in, and it's growing every day!

On 2 April, we launched our Discord Server!! "Crash: On The Run"! This was due to the desire to have a more "interactive" server to celebrate in as fans and fellow Bandicoots. However originally unaffiliated, we would love to be considered for some form of... becoming "official" in some sense. It is currently boosted with some reliable Nitro (the Discord variety, of course, we're not crazy)! Our Nitro is cruelty-free, and does not violate current Potoroo or Anthromafia labor laws.

This isn't us asking for jobs at King or anything, of course, we understand that that's not really a thing that happens. What we would love, however, is to know deep down that we're at least working for Crash. Whether that means we have to sign NDAs for future seasons, events, or features; help promote and collect clips and streamers; being official liaisons for those that wish to travel to the picturesque Wumpa Islands, sprawling with ancient Lemurian ruins and the remains of a megalomaniacal "mastermind's" laboratory, integrated rather crudely in the abandoned palace on our northeastern-most island!
